

Gilder Lehrman Institute of American History Teacher Seminar at the University of Texas at Austin

Researchers may photograph materials under the following conditions:

- Photographs and/or digital images will be used only for personal reference and research purposes and may not be published, posted on the Internet, donated or sold to another repository or exhibited.
- Only hand-held portable cameras will be allowed – no wand or flatbed scanning or photocopying equipment may be used. No camera cases or outside lights (including flash) will be allowed.
- Researchers will not disturb others, place themselves in jeopardy, or take any extraordinary measures, such as standing on furniture, to get the “best” shot.
- Researchers will abide by the handling procedures as outlined in the registration agreement. If book supports or weights are needed to stabilize materials, please ask archives staff and you will be supplied with these items. If leaves are fastened together, please see the reference librarian for assistance.
- The researcher accepts full responsibility for complying with copyright law. By signing the Registration Form, researchers agree to indemnify and hold harmless The University of Texas at Austin, its agents and employees against all claims, demands, costs and expenses incurred by copyright infringement or any other legal or regulatory cause of action arising from the use of any photographs taken. See below for Copyright Notice.
- It is the responsibility of each researcher to keep complete and accurate citations (complete call number, box number or folder title) for all items photographed. Citation flags are available upon request.

COPYRIGHT NOTICE

The copyright law of the United States (Title 17, United States Code) governs the making of photocopies or other reproductions of copyrighted materials. Under certain conditions specified in the law, libraries and archives are authorized to furnish a photocopy or other reproduction. One of the specified conditions is that the photocopy or reproduction is not to be “used for any purpose other than private study, scholarship, or research.” If a user makes a request for, or later uses, a photocopy or reproduction for purposes in excess of “fair use,” that user may be liable for copyright infringement. This institution reserves the right to refuse to accept personal photography of material, if, in its judgment, fulfillment of the order should involve violation of the copyright law.
